Waikiki Health's Sliding Fee Policy

Waikiki Health's Sliding Fee Discount Program qualification is based solely on income and family size.

Waikiki Health considers income to include: earnings, unemployment compensation, workers' compensation, social security, SSI, public assistance, veteran's payments, survivor benefits, pension/retirement income, interests, dividends, rents, royalties, estate income, trust, educational assistance, alimony, child support, assistance from outside the household and other miscellaneous income. Non-cash benefits such as food stamps and housing subsidies do not count.

Family is defined as: a group of two people or more (one of whom is the householder) related by birth, marriage, or adoption and residing together; all such people (including related subfamily members) are considered as members of one family. Your family size can also be determined by the number of individuals claimed on your tax return.

- · Proof of Income (POI) letter written on individual's behalf from family and/or friends
- Unemployment compensation stub or award letter
